

MUST-TRY

8 Must-Try Fish 'n' Chips in NYC

By Kelly Dobkin
June 30, 2014

Summertime is peak season for fresh, local fish, and what better way to enjoy it than battered and fried in the classic U.K. style? Below, check out eight takes on the dish around NYC.

Bell Book and Candle

The traditional cod fish 'n' chips served at this West Village farm-to-table eatery uses fresh catch typically from Montauk. Chef John Mooney serves it with a homemade tartar sauce and hand-cut fries.

141 W. 10th St.; 212-414-2355

